

DESALTO HANDCRAFTED CONCRETE

Desalto's textured spatula finishes are made from resin mixed with mineral fillers and mass-colored pigments, combining high technical performance with durability and a strong tactile character. Desalto's spatula technique is a manual process that gives each product an absolutely unique quality. The spatula effect takes its name from the tool used: a spatula allows the creation of layered three-dimensional shades, producing different effects with each application. A surface with a spatula finish is the perfect solution for those seeking uniqueness.
